

THE PAW PRINT

WELCOME BACK

Welcome to the first edition of The Paw Print, the Fall River newspaper! We're Mr. Huey and Miss Topouzoglou, your two Editors In Chief. Our 4th grade students will be bringing the school news to you many times this year. We'll be sharing school events, sports information, comics, jokes, new information, and so much more! Enjoy the first edition!

FOX TROT

Do you know what's happening Friday? The Fox Trot! Yep it's coming up on September 20th and everyone gets to participate in this exciting race! Guess what! You get a cool shirt, it has some paw prints on the back and every time you run a lap you get a fun paw print mark. This is a fundraiser so make sure you donate money and if you donate over 300 $ you can slime the principal!!! Can you say party? If the whole school donates over 50 thousand dollars we get a party with bouncy castles and more!! Do you know why we raise money and do the Fox Trot in the first place? The money we raise helps pay for reading support, grade level programs, technology and more. Bring your running spirit to the Fox Trot this Friday.

QUESTIONS FOR MISS BILLETER

2 GRADE

pantera Cornwell
CONTRIBUTOR

LONDON REGALADO
CONTRIBUTOR

What are Miss Billeter expectations?

She wants her students to be kind and not be rude and to listen and be reasonable.

How does Miss Billeter feel now that she is a real teacher?

She feels really great and feels proud and ready to be a good teacher.

What's the theme for Miss Billeter room?

Her room is a very colorful room because it's rainbow themed!!

FALL RIVER NEWSPAPER

Miss Billeter wants to work here for 30 years! I'm even surprised that she wants that, but if she wants to then she can.

Miss Billeter is from Longmont CO and a fun fact is she went to Fall River too! Her fourth grade teacher was Miss Carmichael!

Miss Billeter loves her two cats and loves to cuddles with her cats and is very happy to have them 🐱.

SPORTS

Written by Dylan Kupper and Marshall Coe

FOOTBALL

First, we pick teams, then whoever picks first will kick off. If you pick second you're receiving which means you get the ball first. Two catches is a first down. You have four chances to make a first down. When you score a touchdown it is worth six points. After you score you kick off to the other team. Don't forget the two hand touch rule, if someone two hand touches you are down at the spot they do it at. Don't be mean by trash talking and no shoving, show good sportsmanship!

BASKETBALL

First, there are two hoops and one ball, you pick teams just like in football. Next is the tip-off, you pick two people from each team to jump and try to get the ball after the ref tosses it into the air. The point of the game is to make it into the hoop. One hoop shot is two points if you make it. Just like in football, good sportsmanship. Whoever has the most points at the end of the game wins.

KICKBALL

First, you pick teams. Then, one team kicks and one team fields. The team that fields has a thing called a pitcher, and a pitcher is someone who stands in the middle of the field in front of the kickers. Then the pitcher rolls the ball to the kicker. Once the kicker kicks, they will run the bases. If you kick and someone catches it you are out, then you go to the end of the kicking line. If you kick and someone throws the ball at you or the throws and get the ball to the base and keeps it there you are out. If you run all the bases and get back at home base your team gets one point, then you go back to the end of the line. Also, when you kick you can run as many bases until the runner in front of you stops or you get out. When you stop at a base you can't run anymore. If a pitcher gets the ball, you stop at the base you are closest to. Whoever has the most points by the end of the game wins.

JOKES

Shared by Adam Pfeil

Joke: Why do bees have sticky hair?

Answer: They use honeycombs!

Joke: Why are frogs so happy?

Answer: They eat whatever bugs them.

Joke: What do you call an alligator in a vest?

Answer: A INVESTIGATOR!

COURAGE AND CHARACTER

Courage means that you are focusing on something you want to achieve. Courage is showing bravery. For example, if you are having a bad day and your teacher gives you a hard worksheet, you have to have courage to work on it. Here are some other ways to be courageous from our class

- Helping someone when they are hurt
- Playing with someone new
- Trying something scary, like singing at the talent show
- Showing respect to others
